Good and honest cooperation with all parties involved is the key, because success usually depends on the last/weakest link in the chain.

In which phase of a project or event do you see the biggest challenge?

I see a big challenge already in the first part of the planning phase, when it comes to defining the corresponding responsibilities and communication and living them conscientiously.

What do you think is one of the most important skills students need in the work environment?

Commitment, motivation, and flexibility

Which mistake has turned out to be your biggest lesson learned so far?

Don't always say "yes" right away....

What words would you like your business project group and the other students to take with them on their professional journey?

Stay committed to your job with the same passion as you put into your business projects!

What is your motivation to coach business projects?

For me, coaching is about helping students realize their ideas and sharing my experience with them.

Most impressive characteristic of my business partner:

I have more than one business partner ...
